Lívio Sansone is a professor of Anthropology and Afro-Brazilian Studies at the Universidade Federal da Bahia, Brazil. He is the author, among other books, of Blackness without Ethnicity: constructing race in Brazil (Palgrave, 2013). He is the head of the Factory of Ideas Program – an advanced international course in ethnic and African studies – and coordinates the Digital Museum of African and Afro-Brazilian Heritage (www.museuafrodigital.ufba.br)

Co-sponsored by the Latin American and Caribbean Studies Program

Thursday March 10th, 2016
4:00 - 6:00pm
University Hall 201
1897 Sheridan Road